1. The proceedings of 27th October 1888 were circulated and passed.

2. The accounts which were checked by Mr. Virasangappa were read and passed.

3. Read correspondence regarding Sewage Farm below the Dodkere Tank.

Resolved that the Superintendent, Mysore Jail, be communicated with adverting to his letter, dated 28th April 1888, No. 21, to Sanitary Engineer, requesting that the income derived from the Sewage Farm be remitted to the Board.

4. Read docket from Sanitary Engineer No. 1965 without date, received on 19th November 1888, forwarding plan and estimate amounting to Rs. 23,189 for constructing the eastern frontage of the General Market near Dufferin Fountain.

Resolved that the construction be commenced at once, the amount available from Municipal Funds amounting to about Rs. 10,000 being appropriated for the work with the remark that as the construction of a first class Market in the City of Mysore, has been a long cherished scheme of the Board, they are quite prepared to place all available Funds aside for the purpose, but it is feared that this will prolong the completion of the work as the western and southern stalls have also to be constructed and the present state of the Municipal Funds will not permit of the construction of the whole Market being put in hand at once. The Board however are prepared to do all they can and they hope the Government will with its usual benevolence render the Board such pecuniary help as may be needed to permit of the entire Market being completed as soon as possible.

Resolved that Mr. Standish Lee be requested to invite tenders for the construction of the eastern frontage of the Market and that he will kindly in communication with the President and Vice-President have the work put in hand at once endeavouring to reduce the rates as far as possible some of which in the estimate appear to be high.

5. Resolved that a Sub-Committee comprised of Messrs. Annaiya Pandit, Virasangappa, Shek Ibrahim and Davud Khan with the Vice-President form themselves into a Sub-Committee and prepare a revised scheme for the levying of taxes on articles imported into Mysore.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

To the Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Circular No. 1712, dated 28*th January* 1889.

As there appears to exist some misapprehension with regard to the calculation of acting allowances due to an officer acting as Amildar, the Comptroller has the honor to state that Circular No. 956, dated 13th December 1872 is obsolete, and that such allowances should be computed at 20 per cent on the pay of the class in which he is appointed to act and not on the average pay of the grades of Amildars.

The same principle should be followed in the case of Deputy Amildars also.

A. RANGASWAMAIENGAR,
Comptroller.

4. Read Military Secretary's letter No. 1395, dated 3rd December 1888, enclosing a statement showing the cost of the establishment of four scavengers which must remain under the control of the Military Department for the conservancy of the Barr Lines and requesting that arrangement may be made for paying the sum of Rs. 28 monthly to the Commandant for disbursement to the establishment.

The Board cannot afford to keep four scavengers specially for the lines, as the Municipal funds will not permit of the maintenance of special hands for the lines nor would the amount of additional tax of about Rs. 8 per mensem that will be levied from the houses in the lines, suffice to employ more than one hand.

The amounts so received should be credited in the Treasury accounts under the head Resident's Treasury Jamakarch account and the indents sent as vouchers for the credit.

Net increase Rs. 175—13—5.

Resolved that the accounts be passed.

2. Read docket No. 22, dated 9th January 1889, from the Superintendent of Shimoga Jail and its enclosure, viz., copy of the Executive Engineer's docket No. 13, dated 3rd idem, anent the repairs required to be executed to the Shimoga Jail road.

The Board resolve that the work cannot be undertaken by the Municipality as the road in question is wholly out of the Municipal limits.

3. Read docket No. 84, dated 8th January 1889, from the Executive Engineer, Shimoga Division, stating that the date fixed, viz., Thursday in the 2nd week of every month for ordinary monthly meetings is not convenient to him to attend as he will generally be at Head-quarters 5 days before and 5 days after the close of each month.

The meeting find with regret that it will be somewhat too late to hold ordinary meetings on or after the 25th and too early to have the accounts ready to be laid before a meeting of the Board on or before the 5th of a mouth.

4. Read docket No. 76, dated the 19th January 1889, from the Civil Surgeon, forwarding an application from 3rd Class Hospital Assistant Paikanaden Nader for an allowance of cholera work and recommending the grant of an allowance at Rs. 10 per mensem for 2½ months from 1st November 1888 to the middle of January 1889, as in this instance the duty has entailed a considerable amount of work on him both by day and night.

The meeting resolve that as a special case an allowance of Rs. 25 be granted to the Hospital Assistant as recommended by the Civil Surgeon from the "Reserve grant" of the current year.

5. Read Military Secretary's docket No. 1661, dated 24th January 1889, stating that as the Board are apparently unable to provide a proper establishment for the lines, the Military Secretary does not see how any change in the existing system can be made by introducing a tax for which no return can be given.

Read also resolution 4 of the Board Proceedings dated 18th December 1888.

The Board stated in the above resolution that they will undertake to keep the lines clean by the existing establishment which is in return for the tax levied, but that they cannot see their way to pay Rs. 336 per annum for establishment at the disposal of the Military Department on that account against a probable income of only about Rs. 100 from tax on houses in the lines.

6. Read Shimoga Amildar's Itilla No. 187, dated 2nd January 1889, and its enclosures.

In Proceedings No. 4053-64—202, dated 30th October 1879 evidently with a view to minimise the delay and worry caused to trade in unloading and reloading every cart that brings in articles subject to octroi duty, the late Chief Commissioner was pleased to order that for the purposes of levying duty, cocoanuts (fresh) must be taken at 800 in a cart and articles of weight, such as sugar, dry cocoanuts, &c., at 40 maunds the cart, and further with a view to afford additional facilities to the traders that less duty must be levied if the importer wishes to show by actual counting or weight that the articles in any carts are less than the quantity above laid down.

With much regret the Board find, from the record above read, that some unscrupulous men defraud the Municipality by bringing in 1,500 cocoanuts and from 50 to 60 maunds of other articles in a cart when they approach Shimoga.

In order to meet this fraud the Board are constrained to recommend to Government that it may be ruled that whenever carts are suspected to carry dutiable articles more in quantity than what is proscribed in the above scale duty must be levied on the actual number or weight just in the same manner as the traders are shown consideration whenever they bring in less quantities.

7. Read Shimoga Amildar's Itilla No. 138, dated 28th January 1889 with its accompaniments anent the application of one Honna Nayik for the portion of the pit adjdining his compound. This is a large pit and the throwings of the Town sweepings for many years past has not filled it up completely, and to leave it in the present state would be a source of unhealthiness in the vicinity. To fill it up will be a costly undertaking, and this is not in a quarter where lands fetch good prices. The applicant applies for a portion of it, and promises to fill it up with fresh earth and plant it up with cocoanut and other fruit trees.

Resolved that the southern part of the pit marked A in the sketch and measuring 50 × 20 yards be granted gratis to Honna Nayik as finally asked for by him on the following conditions :—

One year's time is given to fill it up and plant it furnishing the Board with quarterly progress reports. Failure of this condition will involve forfeiture of land by the applicant and the Municipal Board will then be at liberty to resume the land without any payment on account of any cost he may have incurred, and to dispose of it in any way they may deem proper.

8. Read again 13 of the Board Resolution dated 24th June 1882.

Resolved that the Bestars in the Town be granted fifteen days' time from this date to enable them to select a place outside the Town to which they should remove their chunam kilns, failing which they are informed that the Board will themselves name a spot for the purpose finally.

9. As it is too late now to discuss the budget estimates for the ensuing year, it is resolved that the meeting be adjourned to next Saturday the 23rd instant.

*1. Transfer of retail license fees of both country and Europe liquor shop.
2. Transfer of revenue from lands within Municipal limits.
3. Relieving the Municipality of the Town Police charges.
4. Introduction of toll system.

11. The Board apprehend that for the present unless the Government issue early orders as regards relieving the Municipality of the Police establishment charges (one out of the marginally noted items which were suggested for improving the Municipal revenue) it is difficult to make full provision even for the repairs of existing main roads many of which have not been touched for some years past. They therefore beg to request that the Deputy Commissioner will be pleased to strongly recommend the proposal for the sanction of Government.

12. Read estimates for Rs. 442 for sinking a channel in the bed of the river on the Town side, as the main course of water in the opposite side is reached with much hardship, the people having to walk a long way over the burning sand in the day time.

The meeting admit that the work is a necessary one, but they are of opinion that the reason too far advanced for people deriving full benefit for the large amount that will have to be spent on the work. Provision has, however, been made in the next year's budget for this work.

13. Read estimates for Rs. 639 for covering a portion of stepped well (to the north of the Nagar Bagal Station) with planks and converting it into a drawing well.

The well is situated close to the bandy-stand. It was constructed at the cost of the Municipality some years ago, and is stated to contain good and wholesome water for cooking and drinking purposes. The water is used by the large number of travellers who are coming to the bandy-stand and also by many of the Towns people who live farthest from the river.

missioner who recently visited Shimoga in this month strongly recommended the converting of this into a draw well.

The meeting consider that the necessity of conserving drinking water in this Town in its present state cannot be overrated. They therefore unanimously resolve that the estimate be submitted to Government for early sanction, and that owing to the utmost urgency of the work it may be undertaken in anticipation of sanction.

II. Letter No. 723, dated 21st ultimo, from the President, Municipal Commission, Civil and Military Station, regarding the refund of assessment collected on account of certain bungalows said to be within the limits of the Civil and Military Station.

Read the following letters received from the President, Civil and Military Station Municipality, in the years 1883 and 84.

1. Docket No. 260 Enc. 3, dated 4th May 1883, from the President, Civil and Military Station Municipality to the President, Town Municipal Commission.
2. List of houses (transferred) on Tumkur road.
3. Letter No. 2886, Enc. 2, dated 14th March 1884, from the President, Civil and Military Station Municipality, to the Assistant to the Resident in Mysore.
4. Docket No. 3023 Enc. 1, dated 13th March 1884, from the Assessor and Collector, Civil and Military Station Municipality to his President.
5. List of houses (transferred) from Miller's and Nundydroog roads.

Read also report from the City Municipal Collector on the subject.

Resolution.—The Commissioners having perused all the previous correspondence on the subject are of opinion that the claim for refund of assessment is inadmissible. They would invite the attention of the President, Civil and Military Station, to the letter No. 2886, dated 14th March 1884 from the then President of the Station Board to the address of the Assistant to the Resident in Mysore which was forwarded in original by the latter office to the City Board together with its enclosures. A reference to it, particularly to its enclosure viz., the Docket Genl. No. 3023, dated 13th March 1884 from the Assessor and Collector, Station Municipality, to his President, will show that the houses in question were duly transferred to this Municipality so far back as 1884 together with the amount of assessment collected by the Station Board during the previous half year. It is further clear from the said documents that the Station Board after the revision of its limits in 1883, collected the assessment of the houses in question for the first half year under the impression that the said houses were within their jurisdiction and they subsequently discovered (according to their own admission) that they were out of their limits and refunded to the City Board in consequence the amount collected during the interval. Under these circumstances the Commissioners must decline to refund the amount claimed.

III. Letter No. 725, dated 22nd March from Station Municipality regarding the refund of sal proceeds of the produce of honge trees said to be within the limits of the Civil and Military Station.

Read report from the City Municipal Collector on the subject.

Resolution.—As it would appear from the Municipal Collector's report that the honge produ was collected by the contractor from the trees in question by some mistake, it is resolved that its timated value viz. Rs. 2—0 —0 be recovered from the said contractor and the same be remitte the President, Civil and Military Station, forwarding at the same time a copy of the Collector's re

1. Read copy of correspondence on the subject of the sanitation of the Town of Shimoga received Chief Engineer's letter No. 1657, dated the 28th March 1889.

The Board feel extremely thankful to Government for ordering the projects of the main drainage and water supply for the Town of Shimoga being taken up by the Public Works Department.

2. The Meeting proceed to consider the following points touched upon in the memorandum of Mr. Standish Lee, the Sanitary Engineer, dated the 4th March 1889 :—

(1.) Anent the stopping of the burial of Municipal rubbish within the Town. (Vide note II of the memorandum).

. The Board regret that this cannot be altogether stopped, as there is no other means of filling up rge number of pits scattered over the Town. It is impossible in the present state of the finances of e Municipality to fill up these pits with fresh earth. It is resolved therefore that, as is the case now, e rubbish be thrown in one or two selected pits in convenient localities and given a good coating of esh earth each fortnight or month as may be convenient. Incenirator should also be constructed ar these pits to burn the rubbish before being thrown into the pits.

(2.) Note 3 of the memorandum refers to—

(a) Night soil pits. | (b) Grave yards. | (c) Burning grounds.

With regard to (a) night soil pits, it will be seen from Resolution No. 2 of the Board Proceedings, 3rd October 1888, that the question has already engaged the attention of the Board. A site has ingly been selected (by a Sub-Committee and by the President) in a waste uncultivated land e village of Navali about a mile and a half

It is mentioned in the Amildar's report No. 232, dated 28th March 1889, that the villagers have no objection to the site selected. It forms part of Survey No. 130 with an extent of 2 acres and 34 guntas assessed at Rs. 3—12—0. The Deputy Commissioner will be requested to send in the usual alienation statement to Government.

It is resolved that in future the night soil should be deposited in pits dug in the above land and covered over with earth.

As regards grave yards (b), the following burial grounds are considered objectionable and the Board resolve that they be closed as early as possible :—

(i). Close to the Sigehatti burning ground.
(ii). At the southern bank of the river directly opposite to the Town.
(iii). Muhammadan grave yard to the west of the bandy-stand and by the side of the imperial road.

The Vice-President will kindly issue notices to the different communities giving them a month's time to select fresh sites in unobjectionable localities.

Regarding the burning ground (c), the ground near Sigehatti was selected for the convenience of the inhabitants of the western part of the Town, as will be seen from Resolution 7 of the Board Proceedings dated 18th August 1880. Subsequent experience has shown that this spot is highly objectionable, and the Board, concurring with the Sanitary Engineer, unanimously resolve that the cremation of the dead be prohibited at this place, and that the same be confined for the present to the existing ground near Purligudda beyond the river to the south-east.

(3.) As regards the partial removal by blasting of some rocks in the river on the side nearest the Town so as to increase the flow of water in the stream that passes on the Town side, and to prevent stagnant pools, the Vice-President and members as per margin are requested to visit the place in company with the Executive Engineer and favor the Board with their opinion at the next meeting.

Mr. C. Malhari Rao.
„ N. Mogappa.
„ T. Venkatappa.

(4.) Anent the removal of the dangerous and objectionable trades such as (a) lime-burning, (b) pottery-kilns and (c) tanneries within the Town (vide Note 7 of the Memorandum).

(a) The Board re-affirm the Resolutions 13 and 8 of the Board, dated 24th June 1882 and 16th February 1889, respectively, and call on the Bestars present at the Meeting to select without delay a site near the Navalihalla or beyond the Distillery.
(b). Pottery-kilns. The potters having personally represented that the presence of their kilns is not injurious to health, and that if their kilns are kept detached from their houses they will have to abandon Shimoga altogether ; the further consideration of the subject was put off until the Vice-President and the Civil Surgeon should have seen the locality and favored the Board with their opinion.
(c). There are no tanneries in Shimoga, but there are a few godowns for storing raw hides collected prior to exportation.

The Board resolve that due measures be adopted to prevent nuisance caused by the storage of raw hides.

(5) As regards the prohibition of rotting hemp in the river and setting a part of the ponds for the purpose (vide Note 8 of the Memorandum), resolved that the rotting of hemp used in gunny weaving be strictly prohibited in the river pools. The gunny weavers have been personally informed that they might use some parts of Navalihalla for the purpose, and they have agreed to remove the hemp from the river within a week.

(6.) In connection with the closing of cesspools alluded in Note 9 of the Memorandum, steps should be taken to have such of the pits as are situated in private lands filled up by the owners, and those on public grounds to be filled up by the Municipality, so far as funds permit.

(7.) With reference to the rubbish depôt at the Barr Lines alluded to in Note 10 of the Memorandum, it is resolved that as in the present crippled state of their finances, the Board are unable to undertake this work which is roughly estimated to cost about Rs. 1,000, the Military Secretary be addressed on the subject with a view to obtain a special grant for it.

(8.) As regards the removal of lanthana or fever plant which has spread over the whole Town, the Board are unanimously of opinion that, as suggested by the Sanitary Engineer in his Note No. 12 of the Memorandum, everything should be done to see lanthana rooted out and destroyed wherever found in the Town. They accordingly resolve that a notice be issued to the town's-people giving them sufficient time for the removal of all line hedges around their backyards, and for putting up walls or bamboos or wooden fences in their stead. The lanthana on public grounds will be removed by convicts who will be employed on the work systematically from one end of the Town to the other, i. e., from Sigehatti to the Tunga bridge. Measures to be adopted to have these works carried out when the soil has been loosened by a few showers.

3. Read again letter from the Revd. J. A. M. Gerbier, Roman Catholic Priest at Shimoga, kindly offering in response to a suggestion made by the Deputy Commissioner to bring down 2 or 3 nuns to take charge of a Girl's school in Shimoga, read also Resolution No. 5 of the Board Proceedings dated 18th December 1883.

The Meeting convey their thanks to the Revd. Gentleman for the kind offer. There being no independent school, the Board will address the Revd. Gentleman again when the plan for opening one has been sufficiently matured; meanwhile the Pr'e t will be asked to kindly furnish the Board with a memo of the cost of maintaining the nuns as specified in para 2 of the letter above read.

4. Read again Resolution No. 12 of the Board Proceedings dated 5th October 1888.

Resolved that the Deputy Commissioner be requested to kindly forward a copy of the above Resolution showing the progress made with the Petta since it was started and the details of the money received and spent for its improvement, and convey also the thanks of the Board to Colonel Tredway G. Clarke for the donation given by him. The Petta is improving, and houses will begin to be built in increasing numbers when the well now being sunk proves a success.

5. Read Executive Engineer's docket No. 303, dated 10th April 1889, marking off in the survey map of Shimoga village, 6 blocks of building sites which Messrs. E. Sundram Iyer, K. Rama Rao and K. Lakshmanaiya, &c., had applied for. These blocks form part of survey No. 37, extent A. 39, G. 21 assigned for free grazing of cattle.

The sites asked for are situated near the District Office compound along the southern side of the road leading to Honnali. The sites are at some distance from the Town and as an inducement to raise decent buildings which would improve the place, it is resolved that the sites be granted free to the applicants subject to the following conditions:—

The buildings should be completed within 2 years according to the plan given; privies and wells to be built in such manner as may be pointed out by the Civil Surgeon and by the Executive Engineer. Clearance of ground. digging of well and collection of materials to the value of ¼ of the estimate cost to be shown at the end of the 1st year. Default in any of these conditions will entail resumption of the sites by the Municipality. Further resolved that the Deputy Commissioner be requested to send an alienation statement to the proper authorities.

K. NAGESA RAO,
Vice-President.

The accounts for the month of February showing—

Receipts	11,437	15	0
Expenditure	5,533	7	6

were read and passed.

2. The draft budget for 1889—90 which had been printed and circulated was next discussed. It was passed with the following remarks and modifications.

Receipts from sale of manure.—Past receipt and anticipated revenue is small. The Board desire the utmost to be made of this item of revenue.

Police charges.—The Superintendent of Police applies for 94 more Police Constables owing to the enlargement of the limits of the City and to constantly increasing duties. He also desires of the provision of Rs. 3,860 may be made for Police clothing for the year 1889—90. The Board resolve that Government be requested to relieve the Municipality of the cost of maintaining the Town Police as it is hardly a legitimate charge on the Municipality and that pending reply a consideration of the Police Superintendent's application for extra men be deferred with the remark that the application for additional men requires the approval of the Inspector General of Police. Rs. 2,200 will be provided for Police clothing (instead of Rs. 1,200) in the draft budget, thus raising the total provision on account of Police to Rs. 25,764. The Board pass this provision in the hope that if the Municipality is relieved of Police charges the same shall take effect from 1st April.

Lighting.—The present system has not furnished satisfactory results, the lighting in parts of the Town being bad. The Board desire that lighting may be given out on contract as an experiment in two Mohallas, Devaraj and Fort, the contractor being required to find the burners and chimneys according to a prescribed pattern and other details being settled with reference to the experience gained in the Bangalore Municipality. In order to provide 88 additional lights the provision for lighting will be raised from Rs. 4,500 to Rs. 5,000, which is Rs. 1,000 more than last year.

Registration of births and deaths —It is not necessary to appoint special Registrars for births and deaths registration. As such registration is now compulsory, it will be more convenient to the public to report the occurrences (in printed forms which may be supplied for the purpose if necessary) at the nearest Police Station, the several station house officers as at present compiling and furnishing the returns.

Hospital for Females.—As at present there is no 2nd Class Hospital Assistant at this institution, the item of Rs. 480 will be struck out reducing the provision from Rs. 3,900 to Rs. 3,580.

Branch Dispensary at Irangere.—This institution has not yet been opened and will be started as soon as a medical man is available to have charge of it. Provision has been made in the District Fund Budget for the usual $\frac{2}{3}$rd of the cost. Provision of Rs. 156 for the remaining $\frac{1}{3}$rd should be made in the Municipal Budget.

Education Grant-in-aid.—Rupees 100 more are provided for additional grants under consideration, detailed appropriation to be hereafter resolved upon.

Memorial Hall.—In view of the necessary planting and other improvements in the compound of the Memorial Hall, the Board would provide Rs. 2,200 under "other charges" instead of Rs. 1,700 proposed, thus raising the entire grant from Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 2,500 as a special case for the year 1889—90.

Establishment for watching Wells and Reservoirs.—The Board would reduce the grant under this head to 3 from 5 peons on Rs. 5 each, total Rs. 180 for the year.

Conservancy (a) Establishments.—The Board are pleased to sanction an increase of 2 peons on Rs. 5 each per mensem or Rs. 120 per annum.

Public Works.—The Board fear that the details given under this head under actuals and proposed provisions for 1889—90 require revision, as for instance, it is not intelligible how nearly Rs. 12,000 could have been spent on road repair alone. Dividing this amount by any of the usual mileage allotments in force in the Government Public Works Department, the quotient is a number of miles of road which seems to the Board more than the City probably contains. The proposed provision of Rs. 40,419 will be allowed to stand subject to revision of the details hereafter.

Thus modified the budget shows—

Estimated Receipts	..	..	94,800 0 0
Do Expenditure	..	..	1,12,855 0 0

3. Sanitary Engineer's Docket No. 90—56, dated 18*th January last, in re cost of road made as an approach to the Exhibition grounds.*— As the road was made for the use of the Exhibition and cannot be regarded as a Municipal work, resolved that the Sanitary Engineer, Special Improvement Division, be informed that the Board are unwilling to bear the cost thereof.

4. Deputy Commissioner's Memorandum circulating Colonel Bowen's proposals in re-Fort Ditch by the side of the Kakhipailvan road.—The Board approve of Colonel Bowen's proposals and of the project of clearing the locality of the huts and houses to the south of the road and improving the locality.

5. Arrack Shops.—The rate of fees in force in Bangalore, are, the Board opine, suitable for Mysore and may be adopted.

6. Municipal Commissioner.—The Revd. Mr. Hocken having resigned his post of Municipal Commissioner on his transfer to Hassan, the Board desire that the resignation may be forwarded to Government for acceptance with a suggestion that the Revd. Mr. Heigh who has succeeded the Revd. Mr. Hocken will be an acquisition to the Board.

7. The Public Park Committee.—Resolved that the following gentlemen be requested to form themselves into a committee for the current year (1889—90) :—

1. Mr. Knight, (Vice-President) .. ..
2. Dr. Benson, (Civil Surgeon) .. .. } Municipal Commissioners.
3. The Revd. Mr. Heigh .. .. ..

1. Mr. Knight, (Vice-President.)
2. Mr. Raja Rao, (Municipal Commissioner.)
3. Mr. A. Ananda Rao do
4. Mr. Annaiya Pandit do
5. H. Lingaraj Ars do

9. Docket No. 733, dated 19th March, from the Vice-President, Bangalore Municipal Board, regarding the exemption of certain buildings from taxation.

Resolved that the following be exempted being useful and charitable institutions from which the owners derive no rent for use of the premises.

(a.) Talimkhanas, (b) Mission Schools, (c) Private Schools, (d) Matts, (e) Makans, (f) Ashurkhanas, (g) Hospitals and Dispensaries, (h) Government Colleges and Schools, (i) Chattrams, (j) Musafarkhanas.

10. Deputy Commissioner's Yadast No. 1013, dated 15*th March, about exemption of "Dewan's residence" and "Government House" from house tax.*—The Board approve of exempting the "Dewan's residence" from house tax, because it is no longer the Dewan's residence but the Dewan's Office. But "Government House" ceasing to be a Public Office is liable.

11. Memorial Hall.—Mr. A. Ananda Rao suggested the necessity for two or three urinals in the compound of the Memorial Hall for use of the public on nights when there are performances in the Hall.

Females	3	3

A discussion ensued regarding the somewhat remarkable agreement of the number of births with those of deaths registered, but there seemed to be no reason to doubt the correctness of the returns. However the Amildar was asked to keep a strict watch over these returns and to endeavour to secure accuracy as far as practicable.

3. It was resolved unanimously that as the house of Channigaraya in the Christian Street caused an obstruction and narrowed the way very much, the Amildar should be empowered to treat with the owners regarding the terms upon which they were willing to remove the obstruction by altering their house so as to bring it in a line with the other tenements in the street. Report to be made at the next monthly Meeting.

4. Mr. Vaidyanatha Sastri suggested that stray dogs wandering about the streets might be destroyed and the Overseer was directed to see what could be done towards this desirable object as there are no professional dog killers here.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

WEATHER SUMMARY FOR JANUARY, 1889.

Simla, the 13th February 1889.

As pointed out in last month's report, January is usually an unsettled month in Northern India. This is due to the occasional occurrence of cold-weather storms, the chief characteristics of which were stated in last month's report. The great majority of these storms belong to two classes. The first class comprise those depressions which first show themselves in the north or north-west of the Punjab. They are frequently deep depressions, but are generally short-lived, and are either stationary or move slowly in a south-east direction along the Himalayas for a short period and then fill up. They give more or less heavy rain to the Punjab and snow to the adjacent mountains, but their effects are chiefly confined to Upper India. The second class of storms include the usually much shallower depressions, which appear on the north-west frontier in Upper Sind, and which probably, in the great majority of cases, advance from Beluchistan. As compared with the previous, they are frequently remarkably persistent and traverse the whole breadth of the Peninsula, passing sometimes into Upper Burma, where they fill up or disappear. Occasionally small depressions also form in Central India or the Central Provinces. These are generally very shallow and are less persistent than the previous, but usually march in the same general east-south-easterly or easterly direction, and disappear after an existence of one to three days. They sometimes give moderately heavy rain to Central India, the Central Provinces, and Behar. Several disturbances have occurred during the month, the majority of which were unusually feeble, and gave little rain in Upper India The two last disturbances of the month were however large and gave fairly general rain to the greater part of Northern India, but were chiefly remarkable as being examples of double storms, that is, of the combination of a storm of the first and of the second class, originating separately and co-existing as independent disturbances for some days.

At the commencement of the month fine weather with normal anti-cyclonic conditions prevailed in Upper India. On the morning of the 4th a small and very shallow depression, similar to those of the preceding month, appeared in Sind. It moved eastwards during the day, filling up with its advance, but caused some disturbance in the Punjab Himalayas on the 5th, which gave light to moderate snow to the higher elevations. Anti-cyclonic conditions were again established in Upper India on the 6th and continued until the 8th. Weather was slightly unsettled during this period in Southern India, and many thunderstorms occurred in Southern India, which gave light to moderate rain in South Madras, Mysore and Ceylon, on the 6th, 7th and 8th. The barometer began to fall briskly on the afternoon of the 8th in Upper Sind and Beluchistan, and a very shallow depression was formed on the 9th, which followed the same course as the previous disturbance and gave moderately heavy snow to the Punjab Himalayas on the 10th, and brought the snow line down to below 9,000 feet. The weather continued somewhat disturbed in Northern India for three days longer, and light showers fell at the hill stations on the 12th, and in Behar, Chutia Nagpore and Central Bengal on the 13th. Pressure increased steadily until the 17th, when very strongly marked anti-cyclonic conditions, with fine clear, cool weather and strong westerly or north-westerly winds, prevailed over the whole of Northern India. The highest pressures of the month were recorded on the morning of the 17th, the absolute maximum being 30·38" at Peshawar. No change of importance occurred until the 22nd, when the barometer fell briskly in North-Western India. The disturbance then initiated differed considerably in character from the previous. There were two separate areas of disturbance in which the barometer fell rapidly, and more or less general rain was received. The first included the Punjab Himalayas and adjacent plains from Sealkot to Roorkee, and the second comprised the greater part of Rajputana and Indore. The disturbance in the Punjab passed away after giving moderate snow in the hills on the afternoon of the 23rd and light showers in the adjacent plains. That which originated in Rajputana drifted during the next two days eastward into East Bengal and Burma, and gave moderate general rain to the North-Western Provinces, Central India, and light local showers in Behar, Bengal, and Assam. A short interval of fine weather followed until the afternoon of the 27th, when the first large and important cold-weather storm of the present season was initiated. It was like the previous a double disturbance. It consisted in part of a shallow depression which passed into Sind from Beluchistan on the 28th and advanced in an east-south-east direction across the head of the Peninsula during the next three days into Upper Burma, to which it gave cloudy weather on the 1st February. It apparently filled up very slowly in that area and gave low pressure in Burma until the 5th. The appearance of this depression in Sind on the 28th was followed on that day by a very rapid fall of the barometer in the North Punjab and the formation of an independent deep depression, the centre of which was to the north of Rawalpindi and Peshawar on the morning of the 29th. It intensified considerably during the day and marched slowly to the south-east along the hills, to which it gave very stormy weather and heavy snowfall during the next forty-eight hours. A very rapid rise of the barometer set in on the 31st, and the depression filled up very rapidly. This deep depression very largely modified the distribution of pressure over the whole of North-Western and Central India, and obscured the shallow depression in Central India on the 29th and 30th; but with the disappearance of the former on the 31st, the latter again became clearly marked and formed the chief feature of the weather during the next two days. The double disturbance gave a large general and much needed supply of rain to the greater part of Northern India, including the Punjab, Rajputana, Central India, the North-Western

Pressure.—The mean pressure of the month for the whole of India was ·017 above the normal. The excess was greater at the hill stations than at the adjacent plain stations. Relatively to this general state pressure was in defect over the whole of Northern and Central India (with the exception of the North Punjab). The line of greatest relative depression was defined by the following stations :—

	Relative deficiency.
Deesa	·020″
Nowgong	·015″
Allahabad	·016″
Patna	·018″
Dhubri	·019″

A second axis of depression apparently ran along the Himalayas, being indicated by the negative anomalies at the following stations :—

Gorakhpur	·021″
Mooltan	·012″
Ludhiana	·027″

Pressure was relatively to the general state in excess over the whole of the Peninsula. The relative excess was greatest at the following stations, viz :—

Belgaum	+·022
Bellary	+·023
Salem	+·029
Trichinopoly	+·020
Madura	+·021
Cochin	+·025

A reference to last month's report will show that the more prominent features of the pressure variations of the month of January were identical in character with those of the previous month, but were smaller in amount. It will thus be seen that the larger pressure abnormal variations or anomalies have been remarkably persistent for some time, and the probable distribution of the cold-weather rains of the months of January and February, based on this strongly marked distribution of pressure given in last month's report, has been fully confirmed up to the present date.

Temperature.—In consequence of the unusual prevalence of anti-cyclonic conditions, and the absence of large cold-weather storms until the end of the month, the mean temperature was considerably in excess. The following table gives the variation of the mean maximum, minimum and daily temperatures from their normal values in different districts :—

	Maximum.	Minimum.	Mean.
Burma	+1·8	+0·5	+1·1
Bengal	+1·7	+1·7	+1·7
North-Western Provinces	+2·3	+2·0	+2·1
Punjab	+1·0	+0·7	+0·8
Berars	+5·2	+2·2	+3·7
Central Provinces	+5·0	+3·0	+4·0
Central India and Guzerat	+3·4	+3·0	+3·1
Rajputana	+2·3	+1·5	+1·9
Bombay	+3·0	+0·1	+1·5
Madras	+0·5	—1·0	—0·2

Hence the figures have been most prominent in the Central Provinces and Central India, where the mean temperature of the month was four degrees above the normal.

One of the more remarkable features of the month has been the frequent inversion of the normal temperature relations between the plains and hill stations. On about eleven nights of the month the lowest night or minimum temperatures of the hill stations were very considerably higher than those of the neighbouring stations in the Gangetic plains. It will suffice to give one example—

Hill Stations.	Minimum or lowest Temperature of night of 2nd January.	Plain Stations.	Minimum or lowest Temperature of night of 2nd January.
Murree	49·3	Rawalpindi ..	36·9
		Dera Ismail Khan ..	36·9
		Sealkot	41·1
Simla	48·4	Lahore	37·2
		Sirsa	39·2
Ranikhet	50·0	Delhi	40·1
		Roorkee	36·6
		Meerut	39·0
		Bareilly	39·8
		Agra	43·6
		Allahabad	42·7
		Benares	41·9
		Patna	46·9
		Calcutta	48·8

These figures show that not only was the night temperature of the hill stations from 8° to 13° higher than that of the adjacent plains, but that it was actually higher than over the whole Gangetic plain down almost to the sea in Bengal.

This, it may be added, is one of the most remarkable examples that have occurred during recent years of the peculiarity of the weather at the hill stations in the months of December and January, before the occurrence of heavy snow. The only satisfactory explanation appears to be that the high night temperatures are due to an indraught of comparatively warmer air to the hills from the strata above the plains at the level of the hills.

Rainfall.—The preceding remarks have stated the conditions under which the rainfall of the month has occurred. The cold-weather rainfall of the present season up to date has been abundant over the whole of Northern India, but the first heavy rainfall of the season occurred somewhat later than usual. The rainfall of the month has been especially abundant in the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, Behar and Northern Bengal, which areas have received at least double their normal amounts. The excess is relatively greatest in Behar and North Bengal. The Central Provinces, Berar, Khandesh, Guzerat and Orissa which usually receive some light showers were practically rainless during the month. No rain fell in Lower Burma and the Konkan. In the remaining districts, including Rajputana, Assam, Lower Bengal, Malabar, Mysore and Madras, the rainfall of the month was not large in amount, and was either normal or slightly in defect.

The following table shows the actual average rainfall and the normal rainfall of the month of the twenty-one districts into which the country is divided so far as it is indicated by the telegraphic reports of a few stations in each district :—

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

WEATHER SUMMARY FOR FEBRUARY, 1889.

Simla, the 13th March 1889.

February is usually the last cold-weather month of the year in Northern India, as hot-weather conditions generally set in at the end of this month or the beginning of the month of March and rapidly intensify. It is occasionally a very unsettled stormy month in Upper India and the adjacent hill districts, more especially if the preceding month has been finer than usual. The majority of the most severe cold-weather storms of recent years have occurred during the last week of January and first ten days of February. The storms of the month usually belong to the class known as cold-weather storms, the chief features of which have been described in the two previous monthly reports. These are generally shallow depressions but are almost as persistent as the storms of the rains proper. They usually move quickly and in the great majority of cases advance in an easterly course and hence in the opposite direction to the storms of the rains. Each storm gives moderate to heavy snow to the hill districts and light to moderate rain, chiefly in the plain districts to the north of the area of lowest barometer. One of the more remarkable features of these storms is the temperature relations and changes which accompany them. Temperature is generally considerably above the normal before the formation of each storm. A rapid increase of temperature generally occurs immediately in front of the advancing storm, and an even more rapid decrease of temperature takes place in the rear of the storm, where fine clear weather with westerly winds usually prevails. Hence a wave of high temperature appears to advance across Northern India in front of each of these storms and a similar wave of low temperature follows them.

Another interesting feature of the temperature conditions of the month is that the changes and variations of temperature in Southern India are usually inverse to those in Northern India, that is, when temperature is excessive and increasing in Northern India, it is below the normal and decreasing in Southern India, and vice versâ.

The past month has been unusually stormy and rainy in Northern and Central India, and the temperature relations indicated in the preceding remarks have been exhibited to a marked extent during the month.

BAROMETRIC DEPRESSIONS AND STORMS OF THE MONTH.

First storm of January 27th to February 3rd.—This was fully described in the previous month's report. It was a double storm consisting of a shallow depression which drifted from Beluchistan across the head of the Peninsula into Burma and of a deep depression which formed in the North Punjab and advanced for some distance eastwards along the Himalayas and filled up on the 31st. The shallow depression was passing through East Bengal into Upper Burma on the 1st, and local showers were received in Assam and Bengal on that day. It gave low barometer and cloudy skies but no rain to Burma on the 2nd.

A very rapid rise of the barometer in Northern India on the 1st and 2nd established anticyclonic conditions with fine cool weather and westerly winds. The fall of temperature following the storm continued until the 3rd, when the variations of the mean temperature of the day from the normal were as follows :—

Sind and Rajputana	6° below.
North-Western Provinces	5° ,,
Punjab
Guzerat and Central India	4° ,,
Central Provinces ..
Bengal	2° ,,
Bombay	1½° above.
Madras	1½° ,,

This storm gave a heavy fall of snow in the hill districts and general rain to the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, Rajputana, Central India, Behar, Chutia Nagpur and Bengal.

Depression of 5th to 8th February.—This was a very shallow depression and of little importance. It appeared in Sind on the morning of the 5th. Temperature increased very rapidly in Sind, Rajputana and Guzerat on the 5th, in the Central Provinces on the 6th, and in the North-Western

842

Provinces and Bengal on the 7th. The average variations of the mean temperature from the normal on these days and on the 8th were as follows :—

	Average Temperature Variation.
	4th.	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.
Punjab	$-1\frac{1}{2}°$	$-1°$	$+3°$	$+3\frac{1}{2}°$	$+3°$
Sind and Rajputana ..	Normal.	$+5$	$+5\frac{1}{2}$	$+4$	$+4$
North-Western Provinces ..	-5	$-2\frac{1}{2}$	$+1$	$+4\frac{1}{2}$	$+8\frac{1}{2}$
Central India	$-2\frac{1}{2}$	$+2$	$+4$	$+8\frac{1}{2}$	$+1\frac{1}{2}$
Central Provinces	$-4\frac{1}{2}$	-1	$+4\frac{1}{2}$	$+7\frac{1}{2}$	$+7\frac{1}{2}$
Bengal	$-4\frac{1}{2}$	-3	-2	$+\frac{1}{2}$	$+2$
Bombay	$+1$	$+1\frac{1}{2}$	$+2$	$+3$	$+3\frac{1}{2}$
Madras	$+1\frac{1}{2}$	$+2$	$+1$	$+\frac{1}{2}$	-1

The depression passed into Bengal on the 8th and gave some cloud and filled up on the 9th.

Little or no rain fell in the plains or hills during the advance of this depression and hence the temperature relations were different from those of the preceding storm, and no rapid fall of temperature occurred in the rear of the storm.

Depression of 10th to 13th February.—The barometer fell rapidly on the 9th in North-Western India and a shallow depression overlay Guzerat and South-West Rajputana on the morning of the 10th. Thunderstorms giving light showers occurred during the day in Central India, Rajputana and the South-East Punjab.

The depression was transferred to Chutia Nagpur and the adjacent districts on the morning of the 11th, and numerous thunderstorms and light showers had fallen during the previous twenty-four hours in the North-Western Provinces and Central India. Temperature was now decreasing rapidly in North-Western and Central India and increasing briskly in Eastern India.

The depression passed into Central Bengal on the morning of the 12th. Thunderstorms giving moderate rain occurred in Behar and Bengal during the previous twenty-four hours.

Temperature increased rapidly on the 12th in Burma, East Bengal and Assam and was now falling steadily in North-West and Central India. The following gives the temperature variations of the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th :—

The depression passed into Burma on the 13th when it filled up.

Temperature increased rapidly in North-Western India on the 14th and 15th and decreased in North-Eastern India. A fall of the barometer in Beluchistan and Sind on the 15th preceded the advance of another depression from Beluchistan.

Depression of 16th to 19th February.—The depression shown by the Quetta observations on the 15th covered Guzerat and South-West Rajputana on the 16th. The temperature variations of the 15th immediately antecedent to the storm were as follows :—

Sind	$5\frac{1}{2}°$ above.
Rajputana	$10°$ "
Guzerat and Central India	$8\frac{1}{2}°$ "
Central Provinces	$7°$ "
North-Western Provinces	$4\frac{1}{2}°$ "
Bengal	$2°$ "
Madras	$2°$ below.

The depression changed its character during the next twenty-four hours and, at 8 A. M. on the 17th, formed a long trough stretching from the Central Provinces to the South-East Punjab. Heavy rain fell on the 16th and 17th over the whole of this area, except the southern portion of the Central Provinces. Falls of one inch were recorded on the 17th at Satna and Nowgong and at the Hill Stations. The depression was transferred to Bengal on the 18th. Temperature had increased rapidly in North-East India and fallen very quickly in North-West and Central India. Temperature variations on the 16th, 17th, 18th, and 19th were as follows :—

Moderately heavy rain fell on the 17th in the North-Western Provinces, Chutia Nagpur, and Behar. The depression passed into Bengal on the 19th, but filled up and disappeared before the morning of the 20th. It gave some local thunderstorms on the 18th and 19th in Bengal.

Temperature again began to increase rapidly in North-West India and continued to decrease in North-East India, and on the 21st the temperature variations were as follows :—

Depression of 22nd to the 25th February.—This was by far the most remarkable storm of the month, partly by reason of the unusual direction of its advance and partly by reason of the excessive burst of rainfall it gave to the whole of the Punjab. It formed in East Beluchistan and Sind on the 21st and 22nd, and advanced in a northerly instead of the usual easterly direction. The centre was between Mooltan and Jacobabad on the morning of the 23rd. Light showers fell on the 22nd in the hill districts, and skies were densely covered over the Punjab. On the morning of the 24th, the centre was to the west of Dera Ismail Khan, and the depression had increased to a third of an inch. Very heavy rain had fallen in the Punjab during the previous twenty-four hours. Murree received 5 inches, Rawalpindi 3¾ inches, Lahore 2½ inches and Ludhiana and Simla 2 inches. The depression filled up with unusual rapidity during the day. The rise of the barometer was larger and more rapid than has been observed for many years in the Punjab, and exceeded half an inch at Peshawar. Showers were received during the previous day in the Punjab and north-western districts of the North-Western Provinces.

Strongly marked anticyclonic conditions were re-established in Upper India on the 25th, when pressure was two-tenths of an inch above the normal in the North Punjab, and this continued during the remainder of the month.

Hence, of the four depressions or storms of the month, three advanced across Northern India in the usual direction, whilst the fourth marched northwards parallel to, or more probably over, the Suliman Mountains and developed until it reached the much higher ground to the north of the Punjab when it broke up very rapidly. Its history hence confirms the supposition that these cold-weather storms are generated and maintained at a very considerable elevation, and are not primarily phenomena of the lower atmosphere.

Pressure.—The mean pressure of the month for the whole of India was ·024″ in excess of the normal. The excess was, as in the month of January, greater at the hill than the plain stations. Pressure was relatively to the general state in defect generally in Northern India. There were two areas in which the local deficiency exceeded ·02″, viz., Sind and Rajputana, and Burma. The following gives data :—

	Relative deficiency.
Jacobabad	—·032″
Kurrachee	—·024″
Ajmere	—·022″
Akyab	—·022″
Diamond Island	—·023″

Pressure was relatively in excess over the greater part of the Peninsula, but the abnormal variations exceeded ·02″ only at Ratnagiri (·027″) and Bellary (·022″).

Temperature.—The chief feature of the temperature of the month, viz., the rapid fluctuations which accompanied the passages of an unusually large number of storms across Northern India, has been already fully shown in the preceding remarks. The cloudy weather which accompanied these storms increased the night temperature and diminished the day temperature. This effect is shown very clearly in the average temperature variations of the month in Northern India given below :—

	Variation of maximum temperature from normal.	Variation of minimum from the normal.	Variation of mean temperature from normal.
Burma	+0·8	+1·4	+1·1
Bengal and Assam	—0.4	+1·3	+0·5

Berar and Central Provinces	+1·2	+1·9	+1·6

Rainfall.—The most remarkable feature of the weather of the month is the rainfall. The whole of the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, Chutia Nagpur, Rajputana, and Central India received from two to ten times their normal amount. In Bengal and Assam there was a moderate excess. In the Central Provinces, the Deccan, and Southern India the rainfall of the month is always very small in amount, but was even smaller than usual during the first month.

The conditions of its occurrence were as abnormal as its amount. Excessive rainfall in February [such as that of the past month] usually accompanies excessive rain throughout the whole of the cold-weather months, as was the case in the cold weather of 1877. The excessive rain of the past month on the contrary followed a period of drier weather than usual in the months of December and January.

The following table gives the actual and average rainfall at several typical stations in Northern India for two periods, viz., one from the 15th of December 1888 to the 27th of January 1889, and the second extending from 27th January to the end of February :—

This table exhibits fully the contrast between the rainfall of December and January and that of February, and also the excessive character of the latter.

As might be expected from the circumstances under which the rainfall of the cold weather occurs, the precipitation in the hill districts of Northern India was even more excessive than in the adjacent plains. The following gives data for the hill stations similar to that in the preceding table :—

Stations.	Rainfall from 15th December to 27th January.			Rainfall from 28th January to 28th February.
	Actual.	Average.	Variation.	Actual.	Average.	Variation.
Murree	2·57	2·92	—0·35	18·58	2·87	+15·71
Simla	1·97	2·78	—0·81	10·38	2·62	+ 7·76
Mussoorie	1·48	?	?	12·26	?	?
Ranikhet	1·28	2·56	—1·28	8·78	1·85	+ 6·93
Quetta	2·10	1·99	+0·11	2·89	1·83	+ 1·06

No such rainfall has occurred in February during the past fifteen or sixteen years, so far as can be ascertained from the records of the Meteorological Office. The most remarkable feature was, that at the hill stations the precipitation during the storms occurred chiefly as rain and not as snow, and hence there has been apparently no excessive accumulation of snow in the hill districts, such as occasionally happen to influence the weather in Northern India. This inference from the weather at the hill stations is confirmed by the few snowfall reports that have been received up to date. Thus the Deputy Commissioner of Kohat states "that there was a good fall of snow on the Sufed Koh and neighbouring mountains on the last week of January, but that heavy rain followed the snowfall and washed the greater part away."

The Political Officer, Khyber, writes as follows respecting the snowfall in the Khyber and Tirah Hills :—"Snow fell on three different occasions in January, and the amount was reported to have been from one to three feet. Heavy rain fell during February and was followed by snow. The depth was reported to be about two feet."

The Assistant Commissioner, Kulu, states "that between 30th January and 2nd February there was an exceptionally heavy fall of snow, and that up to that date the winter had been one of frequent showers of exceptional severity."

No reports have been received up to date from the Assam and Sikkhim Himalayas.

Hence it is almost certain that there is not at present any excessive accumulation of snow in the Himalayan and Afghan Mountain areas, and it is also probable, after the dry cold-weather season of 1886-87 and 1887-88, that the amount of snow at the present time is not above the average. This appears to be confirmed by the excessive temperature which has prevailed during the past fortnight over the whole of Northern India. For example, the mean temperature at Ajmere and Dera Ismail Khan on the 13th and 14th was 13° above the normal temperature of the day.

The following table shows the actual average rainfall and the normal rainfall of the month of the twenty-one districts into which the country is divided so far as it is indicated by the telegraphic reports of a few stations in each district :—

WEATHER SUMMARY FOR MARCH 1889.

Simla, the 17th April 1889.

The month of March usually witnesses the commencement of the hot weather in Central and Northern India. The cold weather rarely lasts later than the middle of March on the Gangetic Plain. Hence it is a month of large change of meteorological conditions, mainly caused by rapid increase of temperature. The distribution of pressure changes considerably. Prossure decreases in the whole Indian area,—most rapidly in Northern India, and least in the Bay of Bengal and Southern India. The area of minimum pressure is usually transferred to the Eastern districts of the Central Provinces and Chutia Nagpur, which determines and accompanies an imperfect cyclonic circulation of the air over that and the adjacent districts.

The atmospheric disturbances of the month of March are usually of a different character from those of the preceding two months. The latter are usually due to the appearance of depressions in Upper India which drift eastwards and always give cloud, and frequently light to moderate rain to the districts near and on the north of the depression. In March the atmospheric disturbances are much more local in character and are chiefly due to the contrasts of conditions produced by the rapidly increasing temperature of the interior. The interaction of land and sea currents and of air motion between the plains and hills give rise to the various classes of storms comprised under the term hot weather storms, which include the nor-wester of Bengal, the thunderstorms and hailstorms of the Gangetic Plain and the adjacent hill districts, and the duststorms of Central and Upper India. Their cause is by no means yet fully understood, nor have the conditions of their occurrence been determined. The month of March is hence a transition month between cold weather and hot weather conditions in Northern India. It is usually a dry month, and the rainfall, which usually occurs, is sometimes due to storms similar to those of the cold weather and sometimes to local series of thunderstorms in the hot weather storms. In at least two cases out of three, when February has been wetter than usual, March is an unusually dry month and characterized by excessive temperature and unusually rapid increase of temperature.

The past month has been an example of a very dry March following an abnormally wet February.

The following gives a brief account of the more important depressions and large atmospheric disturbances of the month.

A shallow depression lay over Sind on the 7th, on which day temperature was 5° above the normal in the Central Provinces. The depression passed rapidly across the head of the Peninsula, and gave rain chiefly as thunder showers in some parts of the Central Provinces, North-Western Provinces, Bengal and Behar. It filled up on the 3rd, and the barometer was very high in Upper India for three or four days afterwards. A very shallow depression formed or appeared in Sind on 13th, but it disappeared on the next day without giving rain. Immediately before this, temperature was excessive in North-Western India. Thus in Sind and Rajputana the mean temperature of the 10th was 7° above the normal of the day, of the Punjab 5°, and of Guzerat and Central India 4°. Another depression appeared in Sind on the 13th and 14th, which was preceded by excessive temperature, viz.:

Punjab 9° above average.
Sind and Rajputana 8½° above average.
Guzerat and Central India 5½° above average : and North-Western Provinces 5° above average.

It apparently passed across the head of the Peninsula and gave some thunder showers, chiefly in Bengal, Assam, and Burmah.

Another similar disturbance appeared in Sind on the 17th. It gave thunder-storm showers on that day in parts of the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, and Rajputana, and even caused a brief rapid reduction of temperature. Almost immediately afterwards, a depression formed in North Bengal and Behar and the adjacent hill districts. It gave rise to very strong south-westerly winds in South Bengal, and to much cloud, rain, and disturbed weather in the hills. Numerous duststorms occurred in Behar on the 20th, and some thunderstorms in Bengal and Assam on the 21st and 22nd.

After a brief period of rapid increase of temperature lasting until the 25th, a depression again formed in North Bengal under similar conditions to the preceding. It gave few showers, chiefly in Assam, and probably storms in the adjacent hills, and passed away on the 28th, after which ordinary weather prevailed until the end of the month.

Pressure.—The preceding discussion has hence shown that the month was unusually free from large disturbances. The chief feature was the excessive pressure which prevailed and which accompanied, contrary to the usual rule, increased temperature. The mean pressure for the month was ·051″ above the normal. The excess was greatest at the hill stations, thus showing that the unusual pressure conditions were probably due chiefly to abnormal conditions of the higher strata.

The relative anomalies were smaller than during the previous month. Pressure was relatively in slight defect in Northern India, and in slight excess in the Deccan. In the preceding month the excess in the Deccan was very prominent, but the change initiated by the hot weather conditions of March has already diminished this excess considerably, and hence it will probably pass away entirely during the present hot weather, and conditions more favorable to a strong Bombay monsoon current be established than have obtained during the past two years.

Temperature.—Owing to the absence of any large disturbances during the month the sky was unusually free from cloud, and hence the mean temperature of the month was everywhere above the normal. The greatest excess of temperature was in Sind and Rajputana (+1·9°), but this was closely approached by Bengal and Assam with an excess of 1·8°, and by the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Berars with an excess of 1·7° each. On the whole, the excess of the mean minimum temperature was greater than that of the mean maximum.

Rainfall.—No rain fell throughout the month in the Berars, Khandeish, Guzerat, or the Konkan, and in several other divisions, as will be seen in the following table, the total rainfall of the month was quite insignificant. There was a trifling excess in Rajputana, Sind, and Cutch, but both the actual and the average rainfall for March in those Provinces is very small, and the slight excess reported is unimportant.

The following table shows the actual average rainfall and the normal rainfall of the month of the twenty-one districts into which the country is divided, so far as it is indicated by the telegraphic reports of a few stations in each district:—

Cir. No. 24—4-2 Arch.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department,—dated 28th March 1889.

ARCHÆOLOGY.

Read the following Resolutions recorded in the Home Department, No. 3—167-181, dated 8th November 1882, and No. 1—58-71, dated 8th June 1883.

Read also a despatch received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 79 (Statistics and Commerce), dated 8th November 1888.

RESOLUTION.

The subject dealt with in the Resolutions quoted in the preamble was the conservation and location in provincial or national museums of objects of Archæological interest. The attention of the Government of India having been again called to the question by an enquiry from Her Majesty's Secretary of State whether more effective action cannot be taken to prevent the undue appropriation by private persons of such Indian antiquities as are worthy of being preserved in the national institutions of this country, the following instructions and suggestions are placed on record by the Government of India for the consideration of Local Governments and Administrations, who are invited to take such action and lay down such rules in connection therewith as may be deemed useful and desirable.

2. The opinion was expressed in the 4th paragraph of the Resolution first quoted that the Government has never claimed any indefeasible rights in Archæological objects, and that no such right could be asserted without legislation. This is true in regard to all objects of Archæological interest of which the discovery could not be brought within the scope of the Treasure Trove Act. But it appears to the Governor General in Council that a material portion of discovered antiquities will be ascertained on enquiry to have been found in circumstances which would bring them under the provisions of Act VI of 1878. Such will be the case in respect to all ownerless antiquities of any value "hidden in the soil, or in anything affixed thereto." Statuary and remains of buildings, as well as coins, would, if buried underground, usually satisfy the required conditions, and could be classed as treasure under the definition of the Act which, as indicated by the extracts quoted in the Appendix, was intended by its framers to apply to objects of antiquarian interest discovered below the surface of the soil. Indeed the definition of treasure as framed in the original Bill was enlarged by the Select Committee for the express purpose of covering sculptures and similar antiquities, as well as coins.

3. The Treasure Trove Act permits the Government to claim the possession of treasure of which, as laid down in Section 4 of the Act, the amount or value is over ten rupees. Such "value" is not, as in Section 16, the price which the mere materials of the article found would fetch, but the market value or the price which the discovered object might, if offered for sale, reasonably be presumed to realize. The conditions under which the finder of treasure is to be compensated in cases where the claim of Government is asserted, are described in Section 16 of the Act. The value at which the treasure is to be assessed is there defined as the value of the materials only, plus one-fifth of such value. The extra price which the discovered article might realize in virtue of its value as an object of Archæological interest need not enter into account. It will not therefore be difficult to secure for preservation in national institutions the most important antiquities which may be discovered in any part of British India, without inordinate expenditure.

4. The Governor General in Council now desires that the conditions under which the Government can claim articles of antiquarian interest should be made generally known, as well to the officials upon whom the responsibility rests of giving effect to the provision of the Treasure Trove Act, as to the general public. His Excellency in Council is convinced that the Local Governments and Administrations will, on every occasion on which it may be considered proper to exercise the rights conferred by the law upon the State, act with due liberality, and with proper consideration for the natural claims and expectations of the finders of treasure, and will bear in mind that the object in view will be defeated if those who may discover objects of Archæological value are not induced by the prospect of a sufficient reward to make their discoveries known to the officials of Government. On the other hand, it must be enjoined on all servants of the State that it is their duty to protect national interests so far as to ascertain the particulars of any discovery which may be brought to their notice, and to report the circumstances to the proper authorities under such rules and instructions as may be laid down for their guidance by the Local Government or Administration.

5. With regard to antiquities which cannot be brought under the definition of "Treasure," in the Act of 1878, and of which the location in a national institution is considered desirable, no further action can be advised than to ascertain from the finder whether he is willing to surrender the object to Government at a reasonable price.

6. Nothing in this Resolution should be held to interfere with the instructions which are con-

ment officials, and which, for the purpose of easy reference, are reprinted in the Appendix to this Resolution. The same instructions will be applicable, mutatis mutandis, to objects of Archæological interest claimed and purchased under the Treasure Trove Act.

7. With the above remarks the Governor General in Council is content to leave the matter to the discretion of Local Governments and Administrations, but desires that any action which may be taken under this Resolution should be briefly noticed in the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, as the Department which in most Provinces is connected with the administration of Museums.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the above Resolution be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations noted on the margin; also that a copy be forwarded to the Director General of the Archæological Survey of India, the Honorary Secretary to the Trustees of the Indian Museum, and the Home, Public Works, Legislative and Foreign Departments for information; also that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

APPENDIX I.

Extract from the Speech, dated the 29th November 1876, of the HON'BLE MR. E. C. BAYLEY, C. S. I., on the Treasure Trove Bill.

The Bill further proposed to adopt one other provision which, as indicated before, was taken from the modern law of Denmark. This was to give the Government a claim, on the payment of a specified percentage in excess of the intrinsic value, to the possession of such articles as it should consider worthy of preservation in the interests of the public, as being of historic or artistic interest. This provision was inserted some years ago in the law of Denmark, and the practical result had been to make the Government collection of national antiquities in that country the finest now existing. In India such a provision would be of the very greatest value. There was much hidden treasure in India, and as he (Mr. Bayley) could say from personal knowledge, much was being perpetually brought to light in various parts of the country, and a very large proportion of it was of importance, as illustrating either the history, the social habits, the religious beliefs, or the artistic skill, of the races who inhabited the country in past times. In truth, most of the only trustworthy information which we possessed of the history of India antecedent to the Muhammadan invasion was furnished by articles, especially by coins, discovered as "treasure trove."

It was, therefore, an object to prevent articles of this kind from being lost or destroyed, and the provision the Bill proposed to make was, he believed, sufficiently liberal to secure to the Government an opportunity of purchasing such articles as they might consider of real public interest. Indeed, the present Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, Sir Henry Davies, had recently acted on this principle in a very important case, with the consent of the finder, and had preserved from destruction articles of extreme historic interest.

Extract from letter from the Government of the Punjab, No. 636, dated 19*th February* 1877, on the original draft of the Bill to amend the law relating to Treasure Trove.

Mr. Kipling, Superintendent of the Government School of Industrial Art at Lahore, while considering the Bill effectual as regards precious metals, notes that there is a general misapprehension of the right of Government as regards stone, sculpture, wood, terra-cotta, and objects of this description. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the attention of the Legislative Council should be directed to this point, as there is considerable doubt as to whether these articles would be covered by the term "Treasure" in Section 3 of the Act.

Extract from the report of the Select Committee, dated 31*st January* 1878.

The only other changes of importance we have made, besides those in the penal clauses, will be found in the definition of treasure, and in the clause (the first of section 4) which fixes the minimum value of treasure to which the Bill applies. We have enlarged the definition of the word "treasure," as it was urged by some of those consulted that it was desirable to do so in order to secure to the public (under section 15 of the Bill) objects of antiquarian interest which would not have been covered by the definition as first framed, and, with a similar view, we have reduced the minimum value of treasure to which the Bill applies.

Extract from the Speech, dated the 13*th February* 1878, of the HON'BLE SIR E. C. BAYLEY, K. C. S. I., on the Treasure Trove Bill.

* * * And finally the Bill provided means whereby the Government would be able to procure for the national museum articles of historical or archæological value which it might be desirable to secure. Special provisions had been largely introduced into legislation in Europe for this purpose, and had the effect of preserving for national use much very valuable property and articles of great historical importance which would otherwise have been destroyed. He hoped that such might also be the result in India.

APPENDIX II.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Archæology),— No. 1—58-71, dated Simla, the 8th June 1883.

RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution of the 8th November 1882, read above, the Government of India after stating the general principles which should, in their opinion, regulate the utilization and disposal of objects of archæological interest in India, requested to be favoured with the remarks of Local Governments and Administrations on the subject. The replies received show that, while the general principles, enunciated in paragraphs 3 and 4* of the Resolution are accepted by all Local Governments, there is some difference of opinion as to whether the place of deposit for such objects as it is not desirable to maintain in situ should preferentially be the Central Indian Museum, or the Local Museum of the Province or District, where such exists. After giving the matter his further consideration, the Governor General in Council thinks that all differences of opinion will be reasonably met by compliance with the following instructions:—

3. As regards the question of preservation in situ as opposed to removal to, and exhibition in, a museum, it may be observed that the great majority of the discoveries made by the Archæological Survey of India consist of the remains of buildings, massive pillars or inscribed blocks, which cannot be removed, and should for many other reasons be preserved where they stand. The case is, however, different with isolated figures, not in situ, especially if they are the remains of an extinct religion, such as Buddhist figures, which are not unfrequently mutilated by the people, unless they happen to have been adopted by the Brahmans as belonging to Hindu cults. In regard to such isolated figures and to others which, although not mutilated, are lying neglected about the country, it appears to the Government of India that these might with property be removed to some safe place of deposit, such as the Indian Museum, where they could be seen and studied by all persons who take an interest in Indian Art. The Governor General in Council desires to make it clear that he is entirely opposed to the removal of any objects which are still in situ, such as the monoliths attached to Buddhist stupas and Brahminical temples; but, on the other hand, there seems no sufficient reason why isolated remains, such as a capital which is found lying without a shaft, or stray statues the original site of which is unknown, should not be removed to some museum in order to save them from future injury. To this class also belong the sculptures which have been found scattered about the Buddhist ruins of the ancient Gándhára now occupied by the Yusufzai Afghans, whose custom is believed to be to mutilate such remains, unless this is prevented by their prompt removal to a place of safety.

4. In making the above remarks, the Governor General in Council has not lost sight of the fact that it may be argued that the claim of the Government to objects of archæological value rests upon no sufficient legal or other foundation. The Government has in fact never claimed any indefeasible right of property in such objects, nor could such a right be asserted without legislation. Experience has, however, shown that the arrangements necessary for securing any object worthy of removal to a museum, or for preserving it in any other way, can in most cases be made without difficulty by Local Governments or local officers. This being so, it does not appear necessary to take any legal powers of compulsory acquisition.

I.—All discoveries of objects of archæological interest made by Government officers (whether belonging to the Archæological Survey or not) should be reported by them to the head of the Local Government or Administration within which the discovery is made. When such a report is made, it will rest with the Local Government or Administration to issue orders for the preservation of the objects discovered in situ, or for their removal to a Provincial or Local Museum, where such exists, in accordance with the general principles set forth in the paragraphs marginally quoted above. Where there is no Local Museum, the object should be sent to the Imperial Museum, if the Trustees, to whom information of the discovery should be conveyed by the Local Government or Administration, should so desire.

II.—Local Governments and Administrations will furnish the Trustees of the Indian Museum with lists of all Museums in the Province and with descriptive catalogues of their contents, and will report to the Trustees all fresh discoveries dealt with under the preceding clause.

III.—The Trustees will be at liberty to arrange with Local Governments and Administrations either for the transfer to the Indian Museum of any object the Trustees may require or for acquiring it by exchange or for obtaining costs or other impressions of it. any points as to which there is a difference of opinion being referred to the Government of India for final decision. In dealing with such applications from the Trustees, Local Governments and Administrations will not fail to attach due weight to the desirability of completing any particular archæological series to which the Trustees of the Indian Museum may attach importance.
